Hail Vote Set For December 17th

Ratepayers within the area concerned are again reminded of the plebiscite to be held on December 17 on the hail suppression problem.

It is important that every one who has a vote exercise his franchise, to get full coverage on the wishes of those who will be paying the shot. A two-thirds majority is required to pass the by-law. This plebiscite is only for a one-year term.

Good success was experienced in a smaller area last year with hail suppression and directors of the association who initiated the plan feel sure the same success will be enjoyed in 1957 if the project is given another chance. Now is the time to complete plans for 1957.

Mr. Kalmst, provincial agriculture minister, will be speaking in Didsbury on Wednesday, Dec. 12 at 2 p.m., and it is expected he will bring hail suppression into his address.

FALLEN TIMBER

Miss Margaret Moncey was a visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Moncey over the weekend.

Miss Paty Morrison, who is going to school in Olds, was a visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Morrison over the weekend.

Mr. Ted Mellon was a visitor at the Ray McMullen home last week. Mr. and Mrs. Joe McGaffin and Anne were Carstairs visitors last week, visiting Mrs. McGaffin's sister, Mrs. R. Polier, who was recently in a car accident.

A number of the ladies "nobbed" Mrs. Jennie Dick recently and were glad to see that she is feeling much better.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Moncey are now the owners of a lovely TV set.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Howison, Danny and Jeanne, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Moore and family in Sundre Sunday evening.

Winter really moved in over the weekend with snow and below zero temperatures making the roads quite icy.

We see the new bridge over the Fallen Timber is slowly moving to completion. We do hope it will be ready for use soon.

Mrs. Ester McMullen has had her sister, Mrs. Beatrice Steele and son visiting her from Saskatoon.

Friday evening December 14 at 8:30 at the Fallen Timber church, a film entitled "The Master's Face," a very beautiful and touching film and short humorous film will be shown.

ZELLA NEWS NOTES

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Bill Grange, a delegate for Rugby A.F.U., attended the convention held in Edmonton during the past week.

Mr. H. O. Youngs of Granger has been holidaying at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jim Johnston the past week.

Mrs. Cliff Gibbs, who has been in ill health for some time, was admitted to Holy Cross hospital in Calgary on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Christensen and family were Calgary visitors on Friday.

Also visitors to Calgary on Friday were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Braun.

We hear an oil well on the Harry Steis farm created enough gas pressure last Wednesday to blow out some casing, causing oil to spread quite a distance around the farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Steis spent the night in the hotel because of the fire hazard. To put it mildly, the crude oil perfumed the whole countryside.

Hunters have been trying their luck again and Howard Christensen bagged a deer.

Mrs. A. Waldruff and Mrs. E. Waldruff will be co-hostesses for the military whist party to be held at the centre this Friday, Dec. 7.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Kolstad and family were visitors in Calgary on Sunday, where Mrs. Kolstad Sr. of Air-Cie is again a patient in Holy Cross hospital.

CURLERS TO STAGE TURKEY BINGO SATURDAY

Didsbury curlers will hold a turkey bingo in the Lions hall, commencing at 8 p.m. Saturday night.

As well as turkeys there will be prizes for the in-between contests, with the odd free try thrown in.

Sounds like a good chance to get your Christmas turkey a bit cheaper than you expected to.

The Letter . . .

November 30, 1956

Mr. H. Lynch-Staunton, Mayor, Town of Didsbury.

Dear Mr. Lynch-Staunton:

I am happy to extend my heartfelt congratulations to you in the efforts you are putting forth to make Safe-Driving Week in your community a truly "safe-driving week." It is my humble prayer and wish that your efforts will be rewarded and that, as a consequence, there will be happiness in homes that would otherwise be sad. If each community can cut down accidents in its area, the overall total for Canada will be subsequently reduced.

Mr. Paul Lawrence, Safety Director, Alberta Safety Council, will be interviewing you today. He is a strong advocate of safety and I am happy to join him in extending best wishes and congratulations to you and your citizens.

With kindest personal regards, I remain,

Sincerely yours,

GORDON E. TAYLOR

WESTCOTT JUNIOR W.I. HOLD INTERESTING MEETING

The November meeting of Westcott Junior W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Bill Bogner, with 11 members and one visitor present.

Roll call was well answered to by coming in a hat of our own making: hose pie pans, mixing bowls, etc. look fine when all decorated.

Plans were made for serving at the blood donor clinic.

The group will have a Christmas cook-out exchange for December.

Mrs. Ethel Konchuk gave her education topic on a reading from Our Home and Country Magazine, "Reading In The Elementary Grades," which was very interesting.

The December meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Bernal Reinhart; members are asked to bring suggestions for 1957.

LETTER TO EDITOR

December 3, 1956

Editor, The Pioneer.

Dear Sir:

I hear tell the Lions Club still has many staunch friends in spite of rumours to the contrary.

If some were disappointed in the program, Friday, November 22nd, they certainly weren't "taken in" under false pretences. The concert was well advertised as a repeat performance.

Wouldn't mind betting after the rest room becomes a fact and ten a figure that out of the first ten to enter it there will be nine of the Lions' Club severest critics. 'Twas ever thus!

Yours truly,

J. DEVINE

P.S.: Afterthought — and the Lions are all out for Canada and Canadians. Let's support them!

(Ed. Note: We feel we should add a spot to the above letter seeing this is a country of free speech and being a Canadian who has lived his entire life in our fair country with the exception of five years when we were away on government business.

No direct charge is made as to our routine of the recent concert, which seems to be causing the fuss, but it seems to us the inference is there. We'll just try to protect ourselves and not bring other so-called dissenters in at this time.

We happened to do all the printing for the concert and at no time was it advertised as a repeat performance. Some of those who appeared in the previous show were mentioned in news stories, that's as far as it went.

The majority of the beefers who let go in our hearing had no intention of belittling the efforts of the performers or condemning the Lions Club — they did have plenty to say about the acoustics, which shouldn't be hard to fix.

About the Canadian angle, we don't dig that one — we've done business with a lot of people hereabouts and we haven't seen anyone waving a red flag yet.

Lead words, the writer is a Lion — and has aided the local club in many ways to raise funds, etc. — he also likes to think he's a newspaperman.)

NAME HABIT AS LAST TIME . . . WE'RE STILL PEERIN' THIS TIME AT THE SPECIAL PRE-CHRISTMAS OFFERS BEING DISPLAYED IN LOCAL PLACES OF BUSINESS CHECK 'EM ALL OVER IN THAT POSTER YOU GOT IN THE MAIL LAST WEEK. YOU WON'T BE DISAPPOINTED! SALE STARTS SATURDAY AND RUNS TO DECEMBER 22. LOTS OF THINGS TO BROWSE

Living Costs For Canadians Take One More Step Up

OTTAWA — Higher prices for 1957 passenger cars and liquor helped push Canada's consumer price index to a record 120.3 in October, the second straight month a new high has been reached.

The bureau of statistics said Tuesday higher prices for foods also influenced the upward movement of the index, based on 1949 prices equaling 100.

The index, computed in November to reflect price changes in October, advanced 4 per cent — the equivalent of half a point — in the month from 119.8 in September, the previous high. The October figure represents a gain of 3.4 points compared with November, 1955, when the index stood at 116.9.

The bureau said the October increase was mainly due to rises in the "other commodities and services sub-index and to a lesser degree in the food index.

Higher prices for new cars, theatre tickets, haircuts, hairdressing, drug items and liquor caused the biggest monthly upward movement in this sub-index in three years. It rose by 1.3 points from 121.6 to 122.8.

The food sub-index increased by 3 points from 117.4 to 117.8 as a result of higher prices for bread, milk, most canned fruit and vegetables and some fresh imported vegetables.

The price of fresh beef and pork declined seasonally and cured pork prices were somewhat higher. The prices of eggs, grapefruit, bananas and domestic-grown vegetables were lower.

Shortage Of Personnel Creates Need

The great unmet need in health facilities is finding sufficient well-trained personnel with broad experience, adaptability and soundness of judgment. There may be a reasonable supply of physicians, but there is a tendency to develop specialists out of proportion to the numbers of general practitioners. The most acute shortages in the nursing field are in teaching personnel for hospital schools of nursing and of public health nurses to take advanced courses in supervisory administrative posts. There is some improvement in the number of nurses available for general duty in larger urban areas.

In our modern approach to health departments of health are now allotted an increasingly important place in provincial and local budgets. Personal health expenditures in Canada in 1945 totalled $760,000,000 of which governments contributed 33% and voluntary insurance plans 17%. Each Canadian family spent an average of $82.10 on health care, while 86.4% of families that had health expenditures spent an average of $95.00.

During this period of accelerated expansion and development of health facilities, our difficulties in meeting unmet needs will ensure that programs for health will be carefully scrutinized, and available personnel and equipment channelled to the areas of greatest need.

Is Your Name In This Week's Paper

Well, if not your name, probably the names of some of your friends and neighbors.

Not, of course, because they made the headlines. Fortunately very few of us do.

But simply because you and your friends and neighbors are contributing to the useful life and progress of this area, taking part in church and school activities, doing the many things which make our community a better place in which to live.

A weekly newspaper is a newspaper about and for people like you . . . reflecting the community's life . . . attempting to assist in its leadership.

It wants to work with you . . . to tell about you . . . to serve you.

That is the job of a good weekly newspaper and, with your help, that is what we are trying to do, editor, printers and correspondents working together.

COURTESY
 You CAN BE THE ROAD

TWO SIZES TOO BIG
 Having noticed that his Scottish guide usually went bare-headed in all sorts of weather, the London sportsman made him a gift of a fur cap, the kind that has heavy ear-flaps for extra warmth. On his next visit to the hunting lodge, in the middle of winter in the Highlands,
 he asked the old Scot how he liked the cap he had sent.
 "I hae not worn it since the accident," was the gloomy reply.
 "What accident?" queried his benefactor.
 "Jack MacLeod offered to buy me a drink," sighed the guide, "and I didn't hear him."

 Befus of Didsbury became the bride of Russell Zubick of Redway, Alta.
 Rev. E. B. Fox performed the ceremony before an altar decorated for the occasion with giant white chrysanthemums and white daisy 'mums,
 the pews being decorated with evergreen and white satin bows.
 Given in marriage by her father,
 the bride wore a full-length gown of lace and net over satin, with matching jacket of lace trimmed with pearls and sequins; the fingertip veil of illusion net was secured by a cloche cap of sequins and trimmed net; she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses and white feather arrangements.
 Attending the bride were Miss Bernice Befus, as maid of honor;
 Miss Norma Mus as bridesmaid;
 Miss Norma Befus as junior bridesmaid and little Terry Anne Daeforde as flower girl. They chose gowns of harmonizing shades of blue, in lace and net over taffeta, with matching headresses and mittens and carried colonial bouquets of yellow and bronze button 'mums; the flower girl carried her flowers in a tiny ribbon trimmed basket.
 Groomsmen were Mr. John Zubick and Mr. Harvey Grafte, and ushers were Mr. Gerald Befus and Mr. Reginald Gwynne.
 Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Ruth Goetien sang "The Wedding Prayer" and during the signing of the register "O Perfect Love," accompanied by Mrs. Ella Burrat at the organ.
 Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church, the reception for 100 guests. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked by white tapers and bouquets of pink roses and white 'mums. The bridal toast was proposed by Rev. Fox and responded to by the groom.
 For their honeymoon the bride changed to a charcoal suit with yellow accessories and wore a green and yellow orchid corsage. Mr. and Mrs.
 Zubick will make their home at Empson, where the groom is employed at present.

Christmas Tree Thefts Costly

Stealing Christmas trees from private farm lands is one of the most costly crimes in the theft category. To the farm it means that at least several trees are destroyed for each one stolen; that often fences are damaged and frequently valuable cattle stray through gates that have been left open.

Many farmers, we are sure, would gladly deliver free trees if they were given assurance that the thieves would stop. In actual dollars they would be far ahead in the deal.

It is a strange quirk of human nature that the chap valuing his town front lawn, shrubs and garden, the highest is the fellow that is the most destructive as he hunts, berry picks or steals Christmas trees on private farm lands. He will froth at the mouth if a stray scrap of paper blows over his lawn, but feels that it is quite within reason to destroy farm property fences and through refuse on crop lands.

Respect for the property of the other fellow... town or country...
 is a thing that we can all practice simply because it forms the basic rule of being a good citizen.

P.O. for M.P.'s

If you have written your local Member lately, your letter found its way to the new aluminium mail box recently installed in the Parliament Buildings, Ottawa. With their attractively bevelled and sanded doors, these lock boxes look handsomely at home in the vaulted corridors
 of the Centre Block.
 Imagination bogies at the tonnage of praise and blame that will flow through these boxes in years to come, to M.P.'s and Senators yet unborn. Meanwhile we find it fitting that a metal that has become such a vital part of the nation's economy should grace the nation's legislative halls.

"HOW TO SLEEP ON A WINDY NIGHT"

Mrs. Jones was leaving home in a hurry. Just as she got to the front gate, a neighbor asked, "Are you going shopping Mrs. Jones?" "Oh no! No!" Mrs. Jones replied, "I just haven't time. I am only going to get a few things I really need."

Too often we do not have time even to get the things we need. Too often sleep is listed among the things we haven't time for. Most of us can recall nights spent in rolling and tossing, not for lack of time, and not because of physical discomfort, but rather because of disquieting thoughts, arising from very different causes.

Clarence Lindsay tells a story about Alexander Hamilton Stephens,
 who was one of the noteworthy
 vice-presidents of the United States of America. As a boy Stephens was not very rugged, and a bit of a scared-cat. His job was to care for the sheep. On one occasion when he was nearly home with the flock he became aware that one lamb was not there. He was afraid to go back and look for it in the dark. So he went on home and put the sheep in their pen as usual. He tried to eat. He was hungry alright, but he just could not swallow. He went to bed. He was tired, very tired, but he could not sleep. He got up early next morning, at the first peep of day, and went to look for the lamb.
 He found it cold and stiff in death.
 The night had been so cold the lamb had perished. He went home and told his father and the family.
 He felt sorry but no one scolded him. This incident Stephens never forgot. Many times when he had had decisions to make he would remember and renew his boyhood vow,
 "I can always do what I should. I prefer to enjoy my sleep."

W. J. Cameron tells the following story of a farmer from the shores of Scotland. This was about a Mr.
 White and a boy by the name of John, who worked for him on his wind-swept acres. Mr. White went to town to hire a helper. He met John and asked him "What is your name?" "John, sir." "What do you do?" "I work on a farm sir." "Do you know anything about farming, John?" "Yes, sir." "What do you know about farming?" "I know how to sleep on a windy night," was John's reply. "You know what?"
 asked Mr. White. "I know how to sleep on a windy night, sir." Mr.
 White took some time to look around for a farm hand, but with no success, so he came back to John, asked the same question and received the same answer.

For the first week or so after John went out to the White farm, everything was as usual, and John did his part satisfactorily. Thus, it happened, no one paid much attention to him.
 Then one night the farmer was awakened by the terrible roar of the wind. He was frightened. He wondered how his barns, stacks and animals were faring. He rushed downstairs, dressing as he went,
 before leaving the house he shouted to John, and was bothered because it took the boy so long to waken up.
 His barns might be blown to pieces and his animals ruined. But everything was intact, the doors all fastened, even the hay stack was in order. It had been well roped and the ropes had been securely fastened to substantial stakes. Then the farmer laughed at himself. He knew what the boy meant when he said
 "I know how to sleep on a windy night."
 Do we?

There is a New Testament story about a few men on lake in a small boat during a fierce storm.
 The men were frightened. They looked for their leader. They needed his encouragement. He was sleeping at the time in the roughest section of the boat. They woke him up and asked him if he were not interested in their well-being. He spoke and all became calm. Jesus knew how to sleep on a windy night. Do we?
 "I have tried in vain a thousand ways.

My fears to quell, my hopes to raise;
 But what I need the Bible says.
 Is ever only Jesus."
 "My eyes were wet I could but weep.
 My fears so great, I could not sleep.
 I gave them all to Him to keep.
 And found sweet rest in Jesus."

Are You Listening? "Best" Drivers Causing Most Accidents In Canada

Most highway killings in Canada are caused by — and happen to — good drivers who disregard what they know. They do so, according to the Canadian Highway Safety Conference, on a sudden impulse to seize a hazardous opportunity.

There are countless tempting chances, as familiar to the motorist as his car's steering wheel. The Canadian Highway Safety Conference lists some of them:

The chance that the amber traffic light will not turn red before you get across. . . . The "me first" urge to pass everything in sight. . . . The equally selfish notion to play "poor driver" for a change and go so slow that traffic piles up dangerously behind. . . . The impulse to step on it in spite of ice spots on the road. . . . The challenge of the beatable freight train approaching a crossing. . . . The stop sign that's over-cautious, and the other one that dares you, late at night, when almost certainly no one else will be on the road. . . . The temptation to see if you can't beat your best time on a familiar run. . . .

The goading of an impatient passenger: "whassa matter? Can't this crate move? Or are you an old woman?" . . . The allure of the chance to pass on the right. . . . The slice of weaving in and out of traffic. . . . The hope that the stretch ahead, blanketed out by oncoming lights, has no pedestrians, no pot-holes, no unlighted jolts. . . . The chance that suddenly erratic brakes won't grab again until after you get home. . . . The combination of changing wet road, worn tires, and the belief that you can control a skid. . . .

The anger-born impulse to show the other driver he can't do that to you. . . . The temptation to cut inside on a blind curve. . . . The excitement of cutting through the thin slot between street-car and parked car. . . . The decision that you can make a left turn in time to beat the oncoming truck. . . . The belief you can safely turn right, without signalling, from a left-hand lane. . . . Ignoring a "slow-down" sign when you can see nothing to slow down for. . . . Self-righteous assurance that the other car simply just must realize you have the right of way. . . . While lines on the road are for party-waits, double lines for nincompoops. . . . Seize the driver ahead by riding his tail lights. . . . That dirt shoulder is firm enough. . . . You can pass all five cars ahead before that big tractor-trailer arrives. . . . or the trailer can stop in time. . . . "One for the road" and "You can't fly on one wing". . . . The insidious lure of that delicious comfort that begins to steal over you, driving at night. You should know it is a prelude to sleep, a sleep from which, perhaps, you will never awaken. . . .

Some of them look tame and stupid. They are usually so harmless that most of us have tried them, one time or another. But even the mildest-seeming of them can be as deadly as a maniac with a gun and most of them are renowned murderers with long records on the books of every police department in the country. And every morgue. . . .

When one faces you, suddenly, on the road, it commands "Now!" Take it or leave it, but fast! Now is your chance. To die? Or use your head and live? You have only a split second to think. . . .

Make your decision ahead. This is your "now", right in the instant you read these words. . . . NOW is your chance to live.

WEDDINGS

COWITZ — HIPKIN

Wedding vows were exchanged in recent ceremony at Knox United Church, Didsbury, on November 17, 2:30 p.m., when Miss Patricia Laureen Hipkin, became the bride of Mr. Royden Lewis Cowitz. Rev. J. Stanton officiated at the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hipkin and the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Cowitz, all of Didsbury.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gownned in white satin, styled with a rosepoint lace bodice and a nylon net skirt trimmed with sequins. Her french illusion veil, outlined with lace and sequins, fell to finger-tip length from a sequined headband. Her white Bible was mounted with a corsage of red roses; she wore a string of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. Miss Margaret Condie was maid of honor and Miss Elaine Kimmel and Miss Elaine Cowitz, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids. The attendants wore waist-length gowns of nylon net in blending shades of yellow, shrimp and blue, and carried bouquets of carnations to match each dress.

The groom's brother, Don Cowitz of Calgary, was best man; Bob Hipkin, brother of the bride, and Don Burgess, brother-in-law of the groom, were the ushers, after which they took their places with the bridal party.

Before the register was signed Bonnie Clarke, sang beautifully "A Wedding Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. C. Leson, who played the music throughout on the organ.

The bride's mother wore a cinnamon brown dress with beige accessories. The mother of the groom wore a wine dress with white accessories.

A reception followed in the church parlors, which were very tastefully decorated for the occasion. One hundred guests sat down to a delicious luncheon. Rev. Ray Shantz proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded. Mr. Don Cowitz acted as master of ceremonies. Out-of-town guests to the wedding included friends and relatives from Lacombe, Rimbey, Penhold, Hobbie, Calgary and Carstairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Cowitz will make their home in Calgary.

Notes From D.A.

By Howard J. Fuleher

Selecting a livestock enterprise for your farm is very important. Livestock production is not just raising a few animals. It is part of your farming business. It must be in balance with the farm economy, in harmony with the farm topography and be liked and understood by the farm operator. The livestock enterprise will require time and money to operate and must therefore pay dividends if it has any real value.

We know that grain and hay in surplus as well as pasture land have a value but they do not provide cash for operating expenses and daily living. The best market for these is livestock; they will convert these farm products into a saleable commodity. A profit should be made but if only a market for the grain and hay, plus wages for labor and interest on capital are realized, it has a real value.

In selecting a suitable program no set of figures for any type of livestock can be used. We must select an enterprise or combination of enterprises which will suit the cropping program, not over-tax capital and labor, be large enough to have volume and allow efficient production, and give satisfactory returns. The buildings and equipment must be considered, maybe alterations of present buildings would do, maybe new construction is required; in either case cut expenditures as much as possible, yet provide adequate facilities.

It has been found one or two livestock enterprises is sufficient on the farm. If two are being used they should be complementary, they should not both require peak labor at the same time, nor should both require mostly the same feed. Dairy, cream shipping, and hogs go well together; likewise beef and hogs. Beef and dairy do not work as well as both take pasture and hay, generally speaking it would be better to eliminate either beef or dairy and increase the other.

When your livestock enterprise is selected it should be developed to its maximum under existing conditions,

Christmas Seals Cost Little Yet They Benefit Many

The Christmas Seal campaign of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association is wholeheartedly endorsed by the Hon. Paul Martin, Minister of National Health and Welfare.

In a message issued today, he said: "As minister of health and welfare I have a particular appreciation of the important role the Alberta Tuberculosis Association plays in our fight against tuberculosis and I would urge all the citizens of Alberta to respond generously to this appeal so that its vital work may be continued."

"In recent years, we in Canada have made impressive progress in reducing the toll taken by tuberculosis among our people. Last year, for example, the death rate from this disease fell to an all-time low of 8.9 per 100,000 population as contrasted with a rate of less than 46.0 a short decade earlier."

This is a heartening decline and one which reflects great credit, not only on government programs, but on the activities of voluntary organizations such as the Alberta Tuberculosis Association and the Canadian Tuberculosis Association, with which it is affiliated. Indeed, it should be remembered that it was this latter organization and its various provincial divisions which laid the groundwork for our present federal and provincial tuberculosis programs.

While government action, particularly utilizing the equipment to its greatest capacities. The operator can then become efficient in management practices, producing enough volume with less expenditures to provide a satisfactory income for the time and effort expended.

In many actual farm cases an increase in present major livestock enterprise and elimination of the small projects will give the necessary change to make the farming operations more profitable.

MRS. McARTHUR HOSTESS TO KNOX W.M.S.

Knox United W.M.S. met Monday, Nov. 19 at the home of Mrs. McArthur, with nine members and one visitor present.

Mrs. Stainton presented an interesting report on W.A. W.M.S. rally. Mrs. Roach gave a reading on temperance. Mrs. Stainton led the worship service and Mrs. Parker assisted by Mrs. Wordie, conducted the study on Burma and Korea.

Due to the Christmas season it was decided to hold the December meeting one week early on the 10th, at 3 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Wordie.

SOUNDS LIKE NOW!!!

Reading and winter fires go naturally together.

Particularly under the National Health program, has assumed increasing significance during the past few years, it has in no way lessened the need for voluntary effort. For if we are to achieve final victory over tuberculosis, we cannot do without the pioneering spirit which has always characterized the activities of voluntary agencies in this field. And so, by purchasing Christmas Seals, the people of this province can help ensure that in the months ahead, the Alberta Tuberculosis Association will be able to make its full contribution towards the wiping out of this continuing threat to human health and happiness.

Funds raised through the sale of Christmas Seals are used in case-finding, early diagnosis, rehabilitation of afflicted persons and various projects under the heading of preventive measures and health education.

Contributions may be sent to the Rotary Club TB Christmas Seal Sale Committee, Red Deer, Alberta.

Ramblin' and Roamin'

This Week . . . From This Corner —

Safe driving week is being observed across the country and so far the local scene is rosy as far as we know. However with hazardous conditions prevailing drivers and pedestrians have to be more alert than ever. Elsewhere in this issue you will find an article which should be read by all who operate cars or trucks on our roads.

This Week . . . From This Corner —

The sport scene has been rather bleak up to now but dropping temperatures will enable the ice-makers to go to work at the arena and it shouldn't be too long before curling and hockey hold the spotlight. Local lads will participate in the same league as last year and the curlers will be sporting new matched rocks this season.

This Week . . . From This Corner —

That card party an eastern gentleman sponsored last week in aid of rest room funds was really a success and prompts us to wonder just how many other public-minded citizens are going to follow suit. A good deal of money is still needed before any serious thought can be given to erection of the much-needed facility.

This Week . . . From This Corner —

As you no doubt have learned by now, Didsbury merchants are planning a big pre-Christmas carnival of values. We feel it is the duty of everyone in the town and district to patronize the places of business which are the life-line of the town. Whenever possible, shop at home — it will pay you dividends in more ways than one.

This Week . . . From This Corner —

A thought for today . . . You have not lived a perfect day, even though you may have earned your salt, unless you have done something for someone who may never be able to repay you.

SERVICE BOARD NOTES By W. E. SNYDER Agricultural Service Board

WAR ON COYOTES: The provincial department of agriculture assumed the coyote poison program in 1961 with the introduction of poison pellets, cyanide cartridges and gels, and more recently the use of 1080 and poisoned horse meat.

During that time a total of 196,300 coyotes have been accounted for with many more probable kills. All this at a cost of about 17 cents per head. Under the bounty system in four years from 1944 to 1948, 50,000 coyotes were taken.

The 1080 program has proven so satisfactory in the last few years that many more municipalities will be participating in the program this year. Mountain View will be completely surrounded this winter by other municipalities that are also using 1080 bait stations. Mr. and Mrs. Coyote will have no respite or place to go, to escape poison in some form or other.

It is interesting to note that in the preparation of 1080 baits, 1.6 grams, about 3/4 of a teaspoon of 1080 powder, is used per 100 pounds of meat, being injected into the meat while it is still warm. About 1/4 to 1/2 pound of this meat is enough to kill a 30-pound coyote, but it would take 25 pounds of the same meat to kill a 100 pound sheep. Twelve pounds would constitute a fatal dose to an average size human and most birds would require several times their own body weight of the poisoned meat to succumb to the 1080 poison.

As I stated in a previous letter, this is regarded as being a poison more or less selective to animals belonging to the canine family, and the greatest danger lies in the fact that dogs will take the meat readily and be killed just as easily as coyotes, wolves or foxes. We have the meat processed ready to go out.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Man's God-given protection and power will be brought out on Christian Science services Sunday. Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God the Preserver of Man" is the Golden Text from Ephesians 2:8: "By grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (215:12): "Whatever is governed by God, is never for an instant deprived of the light and might of intelligence and life."

Scriptural passages will include the following from Psalms (18:5,6,8): "The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup; thou maintainest my lot. The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage; yea, I have set the Lord always before me; because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved."

Make It A Year-Round Safety Program

Squeezed between National Cattle Week and overlapping National Property Week, the first seven days of December have been officially designated National Safe Driving Week in Canada and the United States.

"It will do no harm and it may do some good to single out a short period like this for emphasis on 'safe driving,'" comments The Financial Post. "But if any of the scores of special weeks we are now supposed to celebrate should be extended then this one certainly should."

More than 30,000 people have been killed in traffic accidents in Canada in the last 20 years. And at the present rate as many more will be killed in the next 10 years. That will be almost as many Canadians as in either world war. Our only real hope of curbing this needless slaughter, and the enormous economic loss that goes with it, is to make every week a safe driving one.

DISAPPOINTMENT

A Texan passed away, and upon arriving at the gates of his eternal home, remarked: "Gee, I never thought Heaven would be so much like Texas."

"Bon," said the man at the gate, "this ain't Heaven."

YOUR ALBERTA

The response to our first column "Your Alberta" was most gratifying. Replies were received from every corner of our Province. It's encouraging to know how much everyone is interested in the workings of the various departments of the Government. So—keep your requests coming and let's continue to hear from you.

One of the most uncomfortable words in government lexicon is that of "grant". As the man said when he first saw a griffin, "There just ain't no such animal". Yet the term is bandied about at all levels of government, within and without the provincial administration. Actually, the government is granting nothing. No government has anything to grant. It does, however, sometimes re-apportion revenue collected from one source, to disbursements it believes is doing the most good for the most people.

For example, the cities in the province serve not only the people within their corporate limits, but also the people from the surrounding districts who use city facilities. The farmers in to shop use the paved streets; the light and power facilities; the police protection; in fact, hundreds of services never considered in normal course of events. By the same token, it seems unreasonable to ask the cities to pay complete cost of providing those services to visitors. So, some of the revenue that accrues from points outside of the cities is returned to the cities in the re-apportionment of revenues, along with moneys already collected from within the urban confines.

LAKE LOUISE—one of Alberta's scenic tourist attractions.

Last year, for example, Edmonton received "grants" approximately $2,315,438. Part of it came from the city's fuel oil tax share, some $1,372,490. Another $4,307,918 came from the education department grant. The balance was obtained through the departments of Public Health, Highways, Welfare and Attorney General.

Calgary, along with the other 7 cities, shared in this re-allocation of revenue. It received $1,811,639. The fuel oil tax provided $1,268,356. Others had received cheques also, with Watslain endorsing cheques for $220,000. Camrose, for $163,000; Lethbridge, for $1,293,000; Drumheller, for $140,000; Medicine Hat, for $556,000; and Red Deer, for $399,000.

There are scores of other ways in which the cities, and other communities—reap benefit from government services. One that still keeps within the realm of the touchy postbook was the taxing of interest charges for many capital outlays, through the province's Municipal Capital Expenditure Loans Act. There was $27,386,000 loaned out to the eight cities last year at 3 1/2 percent. This is quite a saving on municipal coffers in interest charges, compared with the commercial 6 1/2 to 8 percent possibly charged outside.

That's it for now! Be seeing you soon . . .

FOR THE REST OF YOUR LIFE

That statement has two meanings when applied to an electric blanket. It not only provides you with warmth without weight but also gives you constant sleeping temperature. It makes you sleep more restful, and people who use electric blankets just hate to change to anything else, so they will be using them for the rest of their lives. You will, too, after you try one.

With an automatic electric blanket you sleep with freedom from cold, freedom from tiring weight and freedom from a changing temperature. In the morning you feel much more rested and full of pep than when you sleep under a load of blankets. In giving the one you love the most, an electric blanket for Christmas you can rest assured that it will keep on giving for years and years. Be sure to order yours today.

BREEDING ASSOCIATION NOW OPERATING

The first shipment of frozen semen has arrived from Ontario and with arrival, the Mountain View Breeding Association Ltd., becomes more than a name and a new organization. Now the two technicians, Keith Viney and Henry Christensen can go about the business of servicing the cattle owned by members of the association as well as those wishing to join.

All breeds of cattle can be serviced under the jurisdiction of the association, which will operate very similarly to the artificial insemination centre that used to operate from the School of Agriculture at Olds.

The new organization now boasts a membership of 148 and more farmers are paying their $10 registration fee as each day passes. Barn sheets are supplied by the association and the cost of each service is $8.00.

Phone calls are made to the office in Olds between 8 and 10 a.m. each morning and servicing is then carried out the same day. Operating within a 25-mile radius of Olds, the association has Mr. Charles Thomas of Olds as its secretary-treasurer.

Farmers desiring more information in regard to the operation of this unit may contact either of the technicians or Howard Fulcher, district agriculturist.

M.V.B.C. NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

The college appreciated the interest that a number of townsfolk took in "open house." The evening was a beautiful one and the students enjoyed taking groups of people from the community, and those who came further, through the buildings to note the improvements since a year ago. Many were the commendations we received for the good program, pictures and work done here. Thank you. A special feature was that of a song dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. Leeson, who were celebrating a wedding anniversary. Mr. Carpenter sang "O Perfect Love" for them. The faculty and students join in wishing them many happy years to come. The serving table was beautifully centred with large mums. The following ladies poured: Mrs. Ray Shantz, Mrs. R. Simpson, Mrs. C. Leeson, H. Oke, Mrs. I. Stauffer and Mrs. B. Kelsey. The girls of the "King's Daughters" waited on the guests and did a splendid job serving. These young ladies form a junior auxiliary of the W.M.S. of the church.

A group of students were conducting services in the Edmonton United Missionary church on Sunday. They will also be singing at Youth For Christ in that city. Another quartet is taking service in Calgary. Groups are going to Hoadley and Montgomery as well.

The college has received a wonderful gift from Calgary friends by way of a large rug for the student lounge. It is beautiful and you will want to see it. Also friends are sending in cash donations for the installation of equipment for gas, both in the furnace and the kitchen. We hope to be able to put in these units during the Christmas vacation.

One of our girls, Miss Barbara Garner, has been called home to Wapato, Wash., because of the serious illness of her father. Our sympathy is extended to her, and we are hoping that his health will be restored so that she can return to us soon.

The faculty enjoyed the turkey dinner in the Hunsperger home last Tuesday evening. An evening of games was enjoyed by all, and it was indeed a time of relaxation for each one. We do appreciate these kind friends.

MOUNTAIN VIEW

(From Our Own Correspondent)

The regular monthly show is this Friday, Dec. 7 at 8:30 p.m. in Mountain View hall. Lunch is pot luck.

Saturday evening turkey supper guests with Mr. and Mrs. Ed McNeil and sons were Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Riddle and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kohut and family.

Mr. and Mrs. George Smith were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Eric Atkinson and Larry.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hunter and Donna were Sunday dinner visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Ed McNeil and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fulkert of Innisfail spent Saturday night and part of Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kohut and family. The annual meeting of Mountain View W.I. will be this Saturday, Dec. 8 at the home of Mrs. Roy Gale. It is also Christmas exchange, with any visitors as well as members welcome. Roll call will be butter tarts and raised sweet bread to be judged and used for lunch. Presents not to exceed 75c.

LIGHT YOUR WAY WITH BIBLE STUDY

Are you satisfied with the wrappings of Christmas?

Of course, no one is satisfied with just the fancy papers, the wrappings of Christmas. Everyone is interested in the things that are contained in the wrappings.

And yet it would seem that ever so many are just satisfied with the mere outward observance of the Christmas festival, the wrappings; never once seeking further to find the real gift of Christmas.

What is the real gift of Christmas? The message for the Second Sunday in Advent can be summed up in these few thoughts: "Your King is coming again, visibly and in power and glory, to deliver His own from evil." This message is addressed to all who have accepted Jesus as their King, and it is a message of encouragement and hope. All who desire the King as He comes to us in His Word and Sacrament, all who remain faithful until the end shall then have, not just the wrappings, but the real gift — gladness of heart.

Yes, joy is the word for Christmas. "Behold," the angel said, "I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people." This joy is spiritual. It will be experienced only in proportion as we think and speak of the blessings which are ours in Christ the Savior. Do not let the expense of Christmas rise so high or the weariness of external preparations become so great that it robs you that joy.

Don't be satisfied with the wrappings of Christmas. Find for yourself the real gift, and you will find joy.

This jazz is no longer "cool". The Calgary Fire Department's rescue car rushed to a residence in that city Tuesday in answer to what they had been told was the "passing of an entire family".

It was only a false alarm, but a smelly one.

Someone had put a phonograph record on a plate which somehow found its way into the oven. The oven was subsequently turned on.
